

What Our Members Say

[Why am I joining ICF?] I wish to be part of a solid professional organization focused on credentialing, training, and educating coaches of various specialties.

-James

I'm on staff as a trainer at iPEC, I'm a PCC with the ICF, I'm becoming highly visible in the coach world and know that your networking benefits can't be beat.

-Carmine

ICF seems like the main thread holding together the many strands of the coaching profession. I want to stay connected to this main source.

-Kathy

[The best part of membership with ICF?] Sharing best practices and experiences with the bright interesting people in my local chapter.

-Ray

A great client came to me for both career and life-balance coaching. He's president of a subsidiary of a large investment portfolio management firm. Thanks, CRS database.

-Jim

International Coach Federation

Who is ICF?

The International Coach Federation (ICF) is the professional association of personal and business coaches that seeks to preserve the integrity of coaching around the globe. It supports and fosters development of the coaching profession; has programs to maintain and upgrade the standards of the profession; conducts a certification program that is the gold standard for coaches worldwide; and conducts the world's premier conference and other educational events for coaches. With a presence in over 70 countries, ICF is the voice of the coaching profession.

ICF Will Make a Difference for You

To preserve the integrity of the coaching profession, we are actively involved in researching and developing programs in the legal, regulatory, and credentialing areas that will serve coaches and their clients. ICF also provides a vital forum for members of the coaching industry to communicate with one another. Members of ICF receive important benefits such as:

Professional recognition by their peers and potential clients. ICF is the voice of the coaching industry. By becoming a member you will demonstrate your commitment to the field of coaching and your commitment to standards of excellence.

Shared ethics and standards of excellence with thousands of professional coaches. ICF coaches subscribe to an internationally recognized philosophy of coaching and pledge of ethics.

The opportunity to receive coaching accreditation. ICF is renown for its credentials program which is available to any coach wishing to complete education and coach training practices in order to receive professional accreditation and recognition.

Coach Referral Service (CRS). ICF offers coaches the option of participating in our online coach referral program. CRS will increase your visibility as a coach and will bring potential clients to you. Individuals or companies seeking assistance use ICF's service to find the right coach. (Fee)

The opportunity to participate in local ICF chapters. Any ICF member can choose to participate in a local chapter. Local chapters offer coaches monthly occasions to meet fellow coaches and attend programs and educational coaching events. ICF chapters are currently operating in 34 countries.

Annual regional, national, and international conferences.

Special Interest Groups (SIGs). SIGs offer an additional venue for coaches in similar fields to communicate best practices and new ideas. Over 27 SIGs meet once per month through teleconferencing. SIGs are open to any ICF member.

Continuing Coaching Education (CCE). ICF offers numerous continuing education opportunities for coaches and coaches in training. CCEs are offered through our chapters and our Special Interest Groups as well as other venues. CCEs can be used to earn hours toward the earning of an ICF credential.
